Project Alpha is an information seminar which talks about the importance of being sexually responsible from the perspective of the African-American male. Our goal will be to provide accurate information to young African -American males to help them make better decisions in their lives.

As a result, there will be frank discussions of real-life situations. Sexual abstinence will be prompted as the best option, however there will be some discussion of common protective measures.

By signing this consent you are aware your son (listed above) is planning to attend the Project Alpha seminar and you agree to allow him to participate.
